

Child Safeguarding Statement

1 Nature of Services and principles to safeguard children from harm

Exchange House Ireland National Travellers Service (EHINTS) acknowledges its duty of care to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and is committed to ensuring our safeguarding practices reflects statutory responsibilities, Government guidance and complies with best practice.

EHINTS works from a social inclusion, equality and human rights perspective to provide Education, Youth, Family Support and Crisis Intervention Services to the Traveller community. EHINTS aims to create a safe environment for all children and persons working with children but in particular for the children and young people using EHINTS facilities and services where they feel secure, knowing that if they have concerns, they will be listened to with understanding and respect and their concerns will be addressed.

Safeguarding is the action that is taken to promote the welfare of children and protect them from harm. While protecting children from abuse is one part of safeguarding, children and young people also need safeguarding in order for them to grow, develop and achieve their full potential. Our service believes that the welfare of children attending our service is paramount. We are committed to a child-centred practice in all our work with children. We are committed to upholding the rights of every child and young person who attends our service, including the rights to be kept safe and protected from harm, listened to and heard.
